

Votre partenaire
en management de transition

ADN Transition

Food Industry – Confectionery – France Supply Chain Project Director

The company is the French subsidiary of a German food group.

As part of the takeover and internalization of its commercial and distribution activities in France – previously outsourced to a third-party provider – the company engaged ADN Transition to appoint an interim manager responsible for leading the internalization of the Supply Chain function.

Key objectives of the assignment

- Define the scope and organization of the future customer service department
- Validate operational distribution processes in coordination with the group's central teams
- Develop a detailed project roadmap
- Deploy the SAP information system for the Order-to-Cash flow, including a comprehensive testing plan with all customers

Duration of the assignment - 6 months